ABSTRACT

This directory provides a comprehensive guide to special services offered to assist students with disabilities at 235 postsecondary institutions in New York State, based on a 1994 survey. Part 1 provides two listings of the included institutions, one alphabetical and one by sector--State University of New York, City University of New York, independent, and proprietary. Part 2 provides summaries of services offered by each institution listed alphabetically within each sector. Part 3 provides tables of services by category, to allow the user to determine which institutions offer a particular type of service. Examples of services listed include: campus orientation and training services; peer support groups; remedial courses designed for students with disabilities; wheelchair accessibility; special equipment available; experiences for students with disabilities who plan to attend college; special services available with or without cost; and strobe warning/attention lights. FOREWORD

In 1991 the Department published the Directory of Higher Education Services for College Students with Disabilities. It was based on a survey of services for college students with disabilities, which was sent to the State's higher education institutions during the Fall of 1989. Over 200 colleges and universities responded. The Directory included information on general physical accessibility, special academic and student services available, and number of students who received special services during the 1988-89 academic year.

Since then, the numbers of students with disabilities contacting the Department to locate colleges which offer services meeting their needs have increased by 100 percent. Simultaneously, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990 and the Reauthorization of the Rehabilitation Act of 1992 established the responsibilities of the public and private sectors to make reasonable accommodations for individuals with disabilities to enable them to access programs and services. Additionally, the Office of Higher and Professional Education and the Office of Vocational and Educational Services for Individuals with Disabilities recently signed a joint agreement committing both Offices in the Education Department to cooperatively assist postsecondary institutions in providing services to students with disabilities.

In this spirit, the Office of Higher Education and the Professions and the Office of Vocational and Educational Services for Individuals with Disabilities applied for and received federal funding to assist colleges in reaching out to students with disabilities in the community and in secondary schools, helping them to make the transition into postsecondary education, and providing career development and placement opportunities once they have completed their degrees. As part of this effort, the Department undertook the development of a database of services for students with disabilities and the publication of the 1994 Directory.

The Department revised and expanded the 1989 survey and developed the structure of the 1994 Directory with the assistance of an Advisory Committee consisting of representatives of postsecondary directors and coordinators of services to college students with disabilities, parents of children with disabilities, college students with disabilities, and several state agencies. Over 235 degree-granting higher education institutions and their branch campuses responded. Department staff contacted college persons responsible for providing services for college students with disabilities to assure the accuracy of the information. The following 1994 New York State Directory of Higher Education Services for College Students with Disabilities is a result of that effort. In addition to the information provided in the previous Directory, the 1994 Directory includes information on special arrangements, campus orientation and training services, special advisement services, and general services and special equipment available in the campus library.

HOW TO USE THIS DIRECTORY

The 1994 Directory of Higher Education Services for College Students with Disabilities is a listing of institutions and their services for students with disabilities. It includes information from 235 institutions and their branch campuses. There are three parts to this 1994 Directory which can help you find institutions and services which fit your needs:

Part 1: This part includes two lists of names of higher education institutions in the 1994 Directory. These lists will enable you to locate the names of institutions and their list of services.

Alphabetical List of Names of Higher Education Institutions, and Sector List of Names of Higher Education Institutions.

Part 2: Summaries of Services by Institution Grouped by Sector

Part 3: Tables of Services by Category

Tables of Services by Institutions Listed Alphabetically
Tables of Services by Institutions Listed by Sector

Finding Institutions

Degree-granting higher education institutions in New York State belong to one of the following sectors. The acronym follows.

The State University of New York (SUNY)
The City University of New York (CUNY)
Independent (IND)
Proprietary (PROP)

Part 1: If you wish to locate an institution but you do not know whether it is a public State institution, a public New York City institution, an independent institution, or a proprietary institution, locate the name of the institution in the alphabetical list: "Alphabetical List of Institutions." Next to each institution's name is its sector. For example, Adirondack Community College is part of the State University of New York. This entry will read Adirondack Community College (SUNY).

If you wish to locate the special types of higher education institutions in the SUNY or CUNY systems, you may go to the "Sector List of Names of Higher Education Institutions". Under the SUNY and CUNY sector headings are lists of names of university centers, health science centers, university colleges, specialized and statutory colleges, colleges and institutes of technology, community colleges, and graduate, specialized and four-year colleges.

Finding Services Provided by Individual Institutions

Once you know the sector name of the institution, you may go directly to Part 2, "Summaries of Services by Institution." There, institutions are listed alphabetically under each sector. This section provides detailed information about services and equipment available.

Comparing Specific Services Across Institutions

Part 3: If you wish to determine which institution offers a particular type of service, you may go to Part 3: "Tables of Services by Category." There are two sets of tables in this part. One set, Services by Names of Institution Listed Alphabetically, presents categories of services such as Peer Support Groups, across all names of institutions listed in alphabetical order. The other set, Services by Names of Institutions Listed by Sector, presents the same categories across all institutions by sector. The alphabetical listing will allow you to compare each college's offering with all others in the 1994 Directory. The sector listing will allow you to compare each college's offering with all other institutions in the same sector. A key to individual services listed is at the top of each table.

Printing Information

To print the tables and summaries in the correct format, set your Left and Right margins to 0 and .5 and your font to a non-proportional type.

Alternative Formats

If you require a copy of the 1994 Directory in an alternative format, please contact Dr. Debra Colley, 518-473-4381.

If you have access to the Internet, you may point your GOPHER to URL GOPHER://unix5.nysed.gov.

People with disabilities who have a computer and a modem but do not have access to the INTERNET may obtain information on the 1994 Directory by calling the 800 number for the New York State Office of the Advocate for People with Disabilities (1-800-522-4369). The 1994 Directory is on the Advocate's bulletin board.

People with visual disabilities or who are blind may call their local library which should be able to access the INTERNET. The librarian can search the 1994 Directory and read portions they request over the phone.

Note

This 1994 Directory does not and cannot provide all the information needed to determine if an institution can provide the services a student with disabilities needs. To do that, the prospective student must telephone or write to the contact person listed in each institution's entry.
